Summer Homework:

- o Create a list of questions you have about human behavior and the life of the mind. Keep this list because I will be asking for it when we are officially back (whether in-person or online).
 - o Post the following turnitin response in DISCUSSION TAB by July 10th:
 - Share three questions you have about human behavior and/or the life of the mind on turnitin.com (Discussion Tab). Please do not simply write your questions, but give context to them with any prior (or newly gained) knowledge you might have. For example, I might provide a bit of information about Jean Piaget's child development theories, and then ask, Is child development a biological process or is it changed by environmental stimulus?
 - o Read and annotate texts
 - Post a turnitin response in DISCUSSION TAB to the readings by Aug 10th. Readings to be announced (based on July 10th responses)
 - Readings and prompts will be posted on Google classroom, here, and on turnitin.com (Discussion Tab).
 - o Annotations of the summer reading texts and your list of questions due Aug 31, 2020
